Kenneth Chio Heng long

I have known Kenneth for 22 years as business associate, and later become good friends.

I can confirm that he is a man of great integrity, is extremely dedicated to his family and work, and is entirely peace-loving.

Through out the years I have known Ken, he has always been a caring and giving person, not much with words but his generosity in assisting his friends and staffs has always been low key and discreet. With years of working along him for various occasions, we might have shared differences in opinion and ways of implementing our business, we always concluded to the same ideas of aspiration and goal. In conclusive to being friends and working side by side with arguments, there are still respects towards this honorable kind hearted man. And more so, under the circumstances when running into difficulties there are always friends extending assistance to Ken. These are indications of reciprocations of him extending his support and aids to his friends. This natural kindness towards his family, staff and friends, without waiting for rewards, simply shows that Ken is a kind hearted and straight forward person.
